PRINCIPAL PROFESSIONAL SPECIALISMS

Anaesthesia and Pain Medicine

I was an NHS Consultant in Anaesthesia specialising in Pain Medicine in Leeds for nearly 30 years until I retired from NHS practice in 2016. I gave up general anaesthesia in 2011 to concentrate on Pain Medicine. My clinical practice involved pain assessment and management (pharmacological, nerve blocks, spinal procedures and spinal implants) within a multidisciplinary team of doctors, nurses, pharmacists, physiotherapists and psychologists. The Leeds Pain Service accepts patients with chronic pain from General Practitioners and other specialists and is a national neuromodulation centre for spinal implants. As a tertiary referral unit our patients have complex and long-standing chronic pain e.g. spinal pain, headaches, peripheral nerve problems/brachial plexus pain, cancer pain, complex regional pain syndrome, post-surgical/amputation/traumatic pain, vascular pain and various musculoskeletal pains. Since retirement from the NHS I have continued to work full time and concentrated on my private clinical pain management practice and medicolegal work

Teaching

I have lectured nationally and internationally about pain related topics. I remain active in training, education and national standard setting.

Examining

I was a basic science examiner for the RCA and final FRCA examiner for 13 years and a FFPM RCA examiner for 4 years. I gained experience examining in other countries e.g. Eire, Sri Lanka, Cairo and Hong Kong. I now contribute to the FFPM RCA examination quality assurance by training and auditing examiners.

AWARDS, ACCOLADES AND OTHER PROFESSIONAL RESPONSIBILITIES

I have been an officer and committee member for national bodies with responsibility for pain training, education and standard setting for 35 years. In 2015 I was awarded the FPM RCA Commendation for Meritorious Service FPMRCA

MEMBERSHIP OF PROFESSIONAL ORGANISATIONS

RESEARCH PUBLICATIONS, TEXT BOOKS AND EDITORIAL ROLES

I have published several textbooks and many book chapters, scientific papers, editorials and reviews (more than 135 publications). In 2015 the BMA book of the year prize was won by M L Sharma, S Gupta, M Bennett and K H Simpson. Oxford Handbook of Complex Cancer Pain Management. Oxford University Press (2014); the 2nd edition was published in 2022. I have also co-authored a chapter on chronic pain in the 6th Edition of 'Clinical Negligence'.

TRAINING QUALIFICATIONS AND ACCREDITATION AS AN EXPERT WITNESS

I have been involved in medico-legal work for about 35 years; I have attended courses on report writing and cross-examination. I regularly participate in medico-legal lectures, seminars and workshops. I was trained by the Leeds Trust as an assessor of critical incidents using Root Cause Analysis techniques. I have been involved in internal investigations of complaints within the Leeds Trust.

I am aware of the requirements of Part 35 and Practice Direction 35, the Guidance for Experts in Civil Claims and the Practice Direction on Pre-Action Conduct. I have obtained Part 1 of the Certificate of Medical Reporting; the Bond Solon Civil Procedure Rules Expert Witness Certificate to support my understanding and compliance of the above requirements. I have obtained Part 2 of the Certificate of Medical Reporting on the topic of whiplash associated disorder.

In 2017 I completed the Bond Solon training as part of the Cardiff University Bond Solon expert witness accreditation scheme for civil cases. I passed the required assessments and was awarded the Cardiff University Law School Bond Solon Civil Expert Witness Certificate in 2018.

Expert Witness Institute (EWI) Certification is an assessment which enables an Expert Witness to gain recognition and validation for current practice. In 2022 I was successful in gaining MEWI (Cert) and my application was deemed 'excellent' by the assessors. A EWI Certified Expert commits to undertaking ongoing Continuing Professional Development and is required to go through the Certification assessment every 5 years to revalidate. The assessment builds on the vetting procedures for EWI membership by adding a higher-level membership category for highly experienced experts. Certification assesses all the core competencies required as an Expert Witness and also recognizes those who can demonstrate excellence in report writing, discussions between experts and giving oral evidence in Court. Applications for Certification are assessed on their ability to demonstrate actual practice in real scenarios.

I have provided expert written and oral evidence in many different cases including civil (personal injury and clinical negligence) and criminal matters in the UK, Eire, USA and Cayman Islands. I have provided opinion and given evidence in fitness to practice cases at the GMC. I have attended Court as an expert witness in England and Eire on more than 35 occasions. I provide about 350 reports per year of which 75% are personal injury and 25% clinical negligence. I receive instructions on behalf of both Claimants and Defendants; I am instructed as a single joint expert in less than 1% cases.
